OSG BILLING SERVICES WINS A 2008
PRINTING INNOVATION WITH XEROX IMAGING AWARD

ENGLEWOOD, NJ – October 27, 2008 – OSG Billing Services, a market leader in the invoice presentment and billing services industry, announced that it has won a 2008 Printing Innovation with Xerox Imaging (PIXI) Award in the TransPromo category for its work with Modular Space Corporation (ModSpace). The annual PIXI Awards recognize excellence and innovation in digital printing applications around the world.

Xerox has acknowledged OSG Billing Services in the TransPromo category for its collaboration with ModSpace, a leading provider of modular building, storage and services for temporary or permanent space needs. In partnering with OSG Billing Services, ModSpace's invoice was completely redesigned and now utilizes TransPromo elements, which fuse transactional documents with proactive marketing solutions. This resulted in a data-driven, dynamic invoice with highlight color and vibrant graphic support.

"With our new invoice design we have experienced an increase in brand recognition and positive customer feedback," stated Rhonda Sykes, director of billing and collection at ModSpace. "Utilizing OSG Billing Services' transpromo capabilities, we now have the opportunity to target our customers in ways that were previously unavailable to us."

"Independently judged by leading industry experts, this awards program spotlights true digital innovators," said Cynthia Hamann, PIXI Awards Program Manager. "With over 100 countries eligible and close to 500 entries worldwide; you truly stood apart from the global competition,"

Xerox presented OSG Billing Services with the award on October 27, 2008 in Chicago, IL. Richard Hoffman, vice president of technical and operations for OSG Billing Services, accepted the award and expressed, "We are proud to be distinguished in the transpromo category and would like to thank Xerox for recognizing invoice presentment as a critical component to business."
