OSG BILLING SERVICES NAMES HANK RINER
NEW CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

ENGLEWOOD, NJ – April 7, 2009 – OSG Billing Services, a market leader in the invoice presentment and payment industry, announced the appointment of Hank Riner as chief executive officer (CEO). Mr. Riner comes to OSG Billing Services with more than 30 years of experience in marketing and business outsourcing services. In his new position, he will be responsible for guiding the company towards new growth initiatives.

“The Board of Directors is delighted to welcome Hank Riner to OSG Billing Services,” said Michael Bonagura, board director and founding partner. “We undertook an extensive search and our Board believes that Hank offers the ideal set of skills and experience. He is a proven business leader who, together with our strong management team, will take OSG Billing Services to the next level.

Commenting on his appointment, Mr. Riner said, “This is a tremendous opportunity. I look forward to working with the Board and the management team to build upon what has already been accomplished. OSG Billing Services’ focus on the customer and best-in-class positioning provide a strong foundation for future growth.”

Prior to joining OSG Billing Services, Mr. Riner spent three years as the CEO of CoAMS Inc. and was instrumental in the creation of an online tracking tool to help channel marketers analyze their trade spending. Before his time with CoAMS, Mr. Riner was CEO of SourceLink, the fifth largest direct marketing services provider in North America. While there, he designed the first online campaign planner and worked on campaigns for companies including BMW, Sears, Siemens and Bank of America. In 1995, while CEO of UMI, he built and launched ProQuest, the first search engine on the internet which won the company the Smithsonian Product of the Year award.

Mr. Riner received a BA and an MBA in Marketing from Temple University.
